

Cab Calloway, A New Moon And An Old Serenade

(Tommy Dorsey)

A new moon and an old serenade
I just stood there and looked at you
As the violins played
A new thrill; we were both so afraid
But the moon and the melody
Seemed to come to our aid
Heaven gleamed in a rose-colored light
And the music seemed to be saying, "I'm yours tonight
Your heart called, and I gladly obeyed
In the spell of a new moon and an old serenade
