Cadaverous Condition, I Love You

hey let's make it real to immortalize how we feel the wound "life" to forever heal and noone's left our love to steal you, stranger, non greek and the wild I gave you all my time

I remember a time, as time ran through my fingers like sand and sometimes the earth is a disc for sure but I was only thinking of you

I thought I climbed higher than I've ever been but now I fall from heights I've never seen everything is wrong

you say we don't belong
