

Cadell Meryn, Confide

If you won't confide what eats you up inside you will die

This is a secret that's not yours to hold Spit it out, watch it corrode the ground the sidewalk a long molten stream sulphurous stenching and choking our eyes Watch it slip into the sky

Don't cut up your arms and then cover with reasons you've used for too long Scream it out, it will burn as it flies
Watch it slip into the sky
