

Cadet, Precious One

you are so far away but i'm so close to you your hands cover your eyes but mine reach to hold you precious one you know how much i love you that is why you know how much i miss you you are scared of the light which can break all your fear i'm here right here my beloved i remember when you used to serenade me with our song it's been so long i will never forget how you always smiled when you knew I was near but know i'm still here i'm right here
