

Cadet, Today

Today may be just another day, I'll be older yet
Shall I say 'I love you' once again?
Until I soon forget while I'm wishing tomorrow would come.

If you say each day is like a thousand years
Then why do I wait to love you?
If you say each day you cry a thousand tears
Then why do I wait to love you?

Today, it's a day I always face and it wanders by
Do I ever take away the pain?
When I take the time to whisper words that can make you forget

If you say each day is like a thousand years
Then why do I wait to love you?
If you say each day you cry a thousand tears
Then why do I wait to love you?

You know I want to, you know I do
But do you know why I'm so confused?

Why do I wait to love you?

You say each day is like a thousand years
Then why do I wait to love you, to love you?
You say each day you cry a thousand tears
But I'm not gonna wait to love you.

Why do I wait?
