

Caedmons Call, Can't Lose You

So you're gone but I know you're not so far away
You're a call on the phone or a ride on a plane
But that just isn't the same, yeah well

That's ok because I was never home anyway
So now everyone's evolving and I am just the same
As I was ten years ago, but I don't know
Maybe a simple life is more the way to go
Yeah, but then again, I'm mostly all alone

*Coz I'm losing everyone
But I know I can't lose you
And maybe my time will come
But I know I can't lose you

Coz the older I get
Well the more that life is making sense
And it's similar to traffic or being president
'Cause I'm not the one in control
You grab a hold
I'm just a hammer helping to nail the future down
But it's getting hard making my friends leave town

Repeat*

But maybe I missed the nose right on my face
For what's just past it
And maybe I have the gift that everyone speaks so highly of Funny how nobody wants it
