Cage, Bohemian Grove

Into the darkness, close to the truth, the sun was beginning to set Clutching the hammer, I entered the grove armed with malicious intent The great secret of the global elite was hidden deep in the trees I made my way towards the towering cliffs close to their pagan disease

They have no souls They worship death Tied to the altar they'll take your last breath

The dark side coming out tonight The dark side come with me tonight By the light of the bohemian grove

The center of evil
They could take us all
I have to succeed, lord give me the power
I need to make all them bleed, I see it's all up to me

Covered and claoked, faceless and masked, the ceremony began There by the lake, under the owl, bohemians started to chant Ancient their tongue, one thousand or more, the dignitaries disguised They tied down a woman, removing her robe, she was to be sacrificed

He took his blade He held it high The crowd screamed in ecstasy watching her die

The dark side coming out tonight
The dark side - Human sacrifice
There by the fire I witness bohemian grove
The dark side coming out tonight
The dark side - It's now time to strike
Gripping the hammer I quickly discarded my robe

I broke through the people and held the hammer up high The look in his eyes as I struck him with all of my might His blood soaked stained the night I took flight as their leader had died

I had to escape, run from the grove and tell the tale that I saw Vanishing quickly I slipped through the trees, the darkness would cover it all Hundreds gave chase, the fear that I felt through the forest I ran They're closing on me, I fight to break free and reveal his reptilian hand

Welcome my friend, you've come to the grove We hope you've enjoyed your stay You're never to leave or tell of this tale Bohemians won't be betrayed
