

Cagnet, Poetry Of Love

Let's go down through Paradise Alley
We'll become lost in a sea of smiles falling slowly Walking under lanterns of yellow Your face shines with memories of love
* And everyone you meet like candles in the street with Paradise in their heart to beautiful to de-fine
Let's go down through Paradise Alley tonight
And lie in the poetry of love
Walk with those who feel no pain
Let's go down through Paradise Alley where we will be the one with the stars where we can have what's rightfully ours It's been years since you had peace walking on the wind Everyone we meet we will hold in deed, when were there Everything we want and everything we need, will be spared
Let's go down,
Let's go down to Paradise Alley tonight
walking on the wind
hoping that it will never ends
And lie in the poetry of love
And lie in the poetry of love
* repeat
Let's go down through Paradise Alley tonight
And lie in the poetry of love
And lie in the poetry of love
Let's go down through Paradise Alley tonight...
