

Calibretto 13, From Me To You you tell me that you're praying for me you tell me that I'm blind and can't see you tell me I'm bound and need to be set free its so hard to believe cos your just like me you tell me I have a drug/alcohol addiction yet you offer no way out no solution you tell me if I dont change my ways I'll be condemned to hell well maybe youre right but oh well its so easy to show me what I'm doing wrong its so easy to point out all my sins but what about you arent you supposed to show me love isnt that how you Christians are supposed to live you tell I need to follow Jesus and I need to change my ways but why would I want to be like you you always seem so ashamed you tell I need to get saved from this fury pit but who wants to serve the God of a hypocrite until you start to practice what you preach dont ever expect me to change the way I live
