Calla, Sanctify

I have it planned in my mind I'm comin' at you from behind When your guard is down When you least expect it I'm gonna find out a way For me to wallow in your ways And idolize from the inside

I'll learn to deal with your kind Manipulate the divine And sanctify... have patience

You'll never know I was there I'm gonna catch you unaware I sympathize cut you down to size

Merciful cold cold hands I feel for you simply because you're mine... I need you I beg you... Forgive you

All for you. By default For you all this It's all, all for you My fall for you
