

Calla, Televised

On, sound is on
Infecting everything that is on
As long as You're aware not to stare to close
You're getting much too serious
If only I were there

Tone, change the tone
Invading everything that I've known
In ways I never dreamed
I once was weary of the way They set it up
Channel all your thoughts
