

Calloway, You Are My Everything

There are songs I must sing to you
There are melodies Sounding oh so sweet inside my solitude
There are rhymes there are remedies
For a lonely heart May we never part for what we have is true

Don't you know that time is as endless as forever
so each day I love you
just a little more

you are my everything
you are my hopes and my dreams
you are my everything
so each day I love you
just a little more

there are sounds from a symphony trickily fill the air and when you're not there my world is feeling blue with the dawn comes the morning I see the sun

You're the only one to turn My gray skies blue

Don't you know that love's Like an ocean overflowing I would send you kiss each time You walk the shore

Can't you see that time
Is as endless as forever
Just a little more

you are my everything
you are my hopes and my dreams
you are my everything
just a little more

Ohohwoh

you are my everything
you are my hopes and my dreams
you are my everything
just a little more
you are my everything
you are my hopes and my dreams
you're all I ever wanted
just a little more
