

Cam Hodges, Better Now

People change their minds all the time, I find
One of us will go
If we spend months apart over time
I'll start to forget your name
All I can feel is the blame
All eyes are on me this day
If you can't control who you are
I'll be better alone

I've been on my own
Weak yet feeling strong
You've been fighting hard
We spent months apart
And it broke my heart
But I think you've changed
I'll take your swing feel the pain
Just be yourself, for me
It's on me
For me
It's on me

But all I can feel is your face
All eyes are on you this day
Don't worry as you move on
I'll be better alone
