

Cam Hodges, Follow Through

It was a thousand to one as you burst right through the sun
I know I couldn't be heard but I always screamed along
Then you, you followed me through and you filled my lonely soul

As we go by I'll twist into the night
I'll, turn and find a way
Because of you girl I've opened up a new life
And made this all seem right

It was a thousand to four as you burst right through the door
No harm, you sound the alarm and we slip right through the floor
They said your mind is a sin and your voice won't get you far
Well I've heard it all before

As we go by I'll twist into the night
I'll, turn and find a way
Because of you girl I've opened up a new life
And made this all seem right

As we go by I'll twist into the night
I'll, turn and find a way
Because of you girl I've opened up a new life
And made this all seem right
