Camouflage, Harmful

Harmful I touch your skin I feel you And the truth within And all I can do Is hope you feel it too

Theres pain inside My body n soul Its alright After all my sweet lies The bitter thorns in your side

Twists on and on And all I can do Is hope to feel it too Follow me the where its coming from

We will find the place where we belong There is noone who compares to you And I hope that you can feel it too

Harmful you touch my skin I feel you And the truth within And all i can do Is hope you feel it too
