

Campfire Girls, Broken Tooth

i'm driving in my car i'm listening to the radio i'm driving by your house i'm calling on the telephone i'm smoking like its cool i'm drinking like a drunken fool i sit here in this room with a razor blade and a broken tooth and i'm waiting for you

woah, i'm crying
woah

is there something i can do is there something i can say to you is there somewhere we can go somewhere just to be alone they will never know

is there somewhere (somewhere we can go) we can go there (somewhere they will never know) somewhere just to be alone (tell me while i'm broken now, 'cause i don't even know) i'm drinking by the pool i'm drowning at the thought of you i'm feeling like a fool if i could only make it up to you when i think i think of you when i drink, baby, i drink to you so here's to you

we can go there (somewhere they will never know) somewhere just to be alone ('cause i don't even know)
