

Canaan, The Possible Nowheres

The possible nowheres

I've dreamt the light at the end of this sleepless night just another one like many others

I've heard the sound
At the heart of every void but this is my void, like no other

I've found the place at the end of every journey the one among the possible nowheres

All that begins
has an end somewhere
All that ends had a beginning somewhere
All that begins, ends...

I'll dream about a light far in the distance guiding the slow steps of my shy soul

I'll dream about my end it's just down there, I know past the lights that blind me now

All that has a beginning must have an end, I know
An easy end, somewhere
All that has an end
Had a beginning somewhere
The painful rule of every life....