

Cancer Bats, Butterscotch

Break out the guidelines
Change the tides
we're waging war on engagements, and we're taking sides
This is everything, it's either sweet or I don't see the point
So overrated, your search for gold
The thought of chasing these landmarks
Never seemed to hold
Here's hoping that things will change
You know what i mean
You're never going to sleep again
Never sleep again
Lack of distraction and I'm feeling fine
I may not run on your racetrack, but I'm making time
Here's hoping things will change
You know what i mean
You're never going to sleep again
You'll never sleep again
You'll never, and you'll never
You're never going to sleep again
You'll never, and you'll never
You're never going to sleep again
Never- I will wave this banner here wave this banner high
I will wave this banner here
Wave this banner high
Our own objective, our set of goals
We'll draft our own code of conduct
And we'll save our souls
Here's hoping that things will change
You know what i mean
You're never going to sleep again
Never sleep again
