

Cancerslug, Blackest Heart my heart is as black as the darkest night filled with rage thats the only light i know that our mistakes were justified i feel that its too late to waste more time tear out the heart and just leave me the whole burn me down take my heart and my soul stop this before i lose all control take every memory of you i know take every precious thing that i hold tell me you love me the emptiest lie say you love say you hate squeeze out this heart untill the memory dies squeeze it out

make me pay burn me completely and dont leave a stain wash me up soak it out kill every promise the memory stays
learn to hate
sate
learn to hate me at the end of reason we have lost our eden
as we stand at the gates of the garden
now is the time for my heart to die tear me down to build you up rape the memory of whats left inside no more love
no more hate look in my eyes no life will you find burned away here to stay
soak up the answer to why love is blind life is pain
life is pain but will end
