

Candice Alley, Better Off

Every time I watch you go
Hate to see you, you know when you fall
Under mine I hold your hand
You know this time I will understand
And I know you'll someday
Through the dark you know I see it in your face
I know you'll some day
Been so long you know I'm breathing
But every time you go
If you want it that way
You're better off alone
So won't you hold my hand
I will catch you anywhere you land
Sooner or later when I am through
I'll come back and to the same as you
And I know you'll someday
Through the dark you know I see it in your face
I know you'll some day
Been so long you know I'm breathing
But every time you go
If you want it that way
You're better off alone
And you hold it close
And you hold it though
They'll be an end
Still we don't know
We don't know
So won't you hold my hand
You know this time I will understand
And I know you'll someday
Been so long you know I'm breathing
But every time you go
If you want it that way
You're better off alone
