

Candiria, Three Times Again

CHAPTER ONE

don't forget the pain
your destination
break the core of lies in half analyze this thought perception plead before the jury of my vine courteous
generous
the fragments that define witness

synthetic man
the dna master key man made tolerable excessiveness manufacturing the human product while the duplicates are paved
is thy pallet satisfied?

CHAPTER TWO

False
blood additives
compatible
snapping the vertebrae
revolve around the points
natural law
brilliant forces of attraction celebrate

CHAPTER THREE

incriminating substances spew cattle pressed abrasions obligated to advancement inspected thoroughly
oversized dependency
the state of art engines are running most cunning
crawling pig
quench to saturate
caressing to oblivate

CHAPTER FOUR

lyrics by Carley COMA

CHAPTER FIVE

do not
surround yourself
with an assembly of resented fools they will leave you plummeting to your death never ending recycled pool third world dissident
my teeth are clenching
terrorized in digital
in a state of importance

CHAPTER SIX

intimidate
discontinue
the plagued convenience
three times again

slipping
cyber health
omnipresent

CHAPTER SEVEN

rescue
evolvilist
evaporate the deserts dry release the valves high pressure pure mentalist
candidate that pacifies
send this up to the glands one for you and me
rising strong
the unities
conquering the corrosions

CHAPTER EIGHT

run from nothing
run from nothing fast
blinded by the critical the plots shall come to pass pull
the
grin down
off
choking you to death
the fall of empires to come unleash the inanimated pest