Candlemass, Mirror Mirror

Mirror, mirror upon the wall Magic demon eye A realm of madness Awakened by the call

Speak the ancient words of mages Try to take control The essence of evil, A challenge for your soul

The battle of minds
The riddle the rhymes
Beware of the darkness behind
Usurped and enslaved
Redeemed and betrayed
The devil in the mirror, obey!

Iridescent pulsation light Glowing in its heart The surface is reflecting Nightmares of your mind

Green mist swirling deep within A dark dimension takes from The grip of clawed hands drags you inside

Enchanted with powers to conquer your soul Good or evil it won't mind The mirror of darkness is blind

Feel the presence, the voice of the dark Break the balance, intrudes your mind Try to deny, oh master of fools Captured forever, the loser learns the rules
