

Canned Heat, Last Man (Wholl Ever Have To Sin

If there's no more hunger and not a single gun
And everyone's too busy havin' too much fun
I'll be the last man, I'll be the last man
I'll be the very last man who'll ever have to sing the blues

If there's no more lyin' and no more crime
And not another brother doin' any time
I'll be the last man, I'll be the last man
I'll be the very last man who'll ever have to sing the blues

If we all love one another and there ain't no war
And everyone's got more than they bargained for
I'll be the last man, I'll be the last man
I'll be the very last man who'll ever have to sing the blues

My life was beautiful 'till she walked out on me
Now I've got the blues again and it's clear to see
I'm not the last man, I'm not the last man
I'm not the very last man who'll ever have to sing the blues!
