

Cano Nacho, Early Morning Phone Call

It was an early morning phone call in December that got my attention that called and told me that you had gone you were the strength and hope of my inspiration you were the music in my song sometimes what doesn't seem so fair that's what makes us more aware oh yeah

I know you're smiling I know you're singing and I know that you're in a better place where angel's wings caress but I still miss you and all the leaves have fallen in this October it's just that I wanted to stand with you for a while now i'm through a doorway to tomorrow more like i'm runnin' runnin' out of time Sometimes what doesn't seem so fair that's what makes us more aware oh yeah!

and I know you're smiling I know you're singing and I know that you're in a better place but I still miss you! You ,you

It was an early morning phone call in December that got my attention they called and told me that you had gone I know you're smiling

I know you're singing and I know that you're in a better place where angels' wing caress you but I still miss you I know you're smiling I know you're singig and I know you're flying and now you're singing you're song...
