

Capewalk, Above Our Heads

don't ever talk for hours don't ever be too shy don't ever stay so stupid but don't ask why don't ever behave naughty don't ever defy your fate don't ever be so accurate and don't be late

we know the story it goes on and on searching for a moment of home everybody needs a little space and everybody needs a little grace asking me for time and place i'm searching above our heads i think it's above our heads i'm not anybody's property i can feel where i belong 'cause love in pure existence is free for everyone

i'm not everybody's darling for shure i've changed my ways but the goal that i'm aiming for stays the same

i'm supposed to know the ropes until the sun sets on my greatest hopes
