

Carl Belew, All Because Of You

I have what many seek and fail to find a kind of love that gives me peace of mind
I walk around with silver wings on my shoes and all because of you
Though fame and fortune I have been denied I have your love so I'm still satisfied
And every morning this old world's brand new and all because of you
All because of you all because of you
Dreams of the lifetime have all come true and all because of you

My heart's a symphony when you are near your kiss is music no one else can hear
I'll stay in love with life the whole day through and all because of you
All because of you...
And all because of you
