Carlene Carter, Cry

Excuse my stare It's only admiration I cannot hide this infatuation A young adolescent, such an innocent child You're ??waiting for to testing for?? every little girl's smile But all those tears she made you cry, cry, cry Let your mama make 'em go bye, bye, bye Poor little boy now why, why, why Cry baby, cry baby, cry cry cry It's not my concern But my sympathy is yours And if you're lonely You can sleep on my floor I'll lend you an ear or an arm and a leg But strictly plutonic For every topic Heartache's a scratch but love is an itch She must've scratched you make you hurt like this Poor little boy now why, why, why Cry baby, cry baby, cry, cry, cry

You can cry sugar You can cry honey

You can cry money but don't you cry tears

Cry me a river or cry me a lake

Cry like the rain but don't you ever cry like a train

Well love is a fall and heartache's a bitch She must've sent you flyin' over the fence Poor little boy now why, why, why

Cry baby, cry baby, cry cry cry Cry honey, cry baby, why, why, why Cry baby, cry baby, why, why, why Cry sugar, cry honey, bye bye bye
