

Carlos Santana, Novus

I've been searching for freedom
I've been looking for someone
In the dreams of my heart, I see your face
Calling me into the light

You're the vision of beauty
You're so radiant and lovely
I just can't believe you're here with me
Your touch is my ecstasy - my love

Looking into the future
We can see the beginning
Children living in peace and harmony
That is the way it will be
