

Carlos Santana, Over And Over

Watcha gonna do with your life
Now that Im leaving
Are you believing
Youll make it on your own

Didnt you believe what I said
Or was it just madness
Living in sadness
Youll be all alone

I said it over and over
At least a hundred times
I have what you been missing
Look back and you may find

Now its time to walk out the door
Its all been said now
Im looking ahead now
Time to be moving on
Yes, I told you so many times
But you didnt listen
You cant see what youre missing
What you never had before

I could have loved you
Like there was no tomorrow
It didnt really matter
If you stole my love or borrowed
You know I could go crazy
But I just cant remember
Exactly how to go there
And keep this love forever
