

Carly Binding, So Radiate

quiet on the boulevard
trying not to notice
neither of us knew just how to say it so much room to look at you trying not to crumble every time I spoke it sounded vacant and everything I said just hit the pavement

so radiate
I can't see you
you're just too far from me
so radiate
I can't tell you
it's just too hard to speak

stood out on the motorway it's never been this quiet here we are alone just stay connected shadow afternoon again
everything is fading
you're the one who leaves me unprotected you're the only one who makes me restless

so radiate
I can't see you
so radiate
I can't tell you

they're only words
they're only words
this breaking silence
makes no difference
they're only words
they have no words

so radiate
I can't see you
so radiate
I can't tell you
it's just too hard

so radiate
so radiate
so radiate
so radiate
