

Carly Simon, For Old Times Sake

(Carly Simon/Jacob Brackman)

Let's make love for old times sake
Let's set right an old mistake
Let's invite our hearts to break
It's right tonight
But just for old time's sake

Remember you as Mars
And me as Venus
Strange to see the grey in your hair
And now feel a peace so deep between us
And to realize that we still care

Let's make love for old times sake
Let's set right an old mistake
Let's invite our hearts to break
It's right tonight
But just for old time's sake

I used to think we would wind up together
Our destinies always entwined
Oh but your heart kept changing like the weather
And you would up leaving me behind

Let's make love for old time's sake
Let's set right an old mistake
Let's invite our heart's to break
It's right tonight
But just for old time's sake

Let's make love for old time's sake
Let's set right an old mistake
Let's invite our heart's to break
It's right tonight
But just for old time's sake
