Carly Simon, For Old Times Sake

(Carly Simon/Jacob Brackman)

Let's make love for old times sake Let's set right an old mistake Let's invite our hearts to break It's right tonight But just for old time's sake

Remember you as Mars And me as Venus Strange to see the grey in your hair And now feel a peace so deep between us And to realize that we still care

Let's make love for old times sake Let's set right an old mistake Let's invite our hearts to break It's right tonight But just for old time's sake

I used to think we would wind up together Our destinies always entwined Oh but your heart kept changing like the weather And you would up leaving me behind

Let's make love for old time's sake Let's set right an old mistake Let's invite our heart's to break It's right tonight But just for old time's sake
