

Carole King, Lay Down My Life

As I walk away
My world comes tumbling down
That's alright
You'll go home again without me
Where will I go tomorrow
It doesn't matter, if you want me to stay
Should I turn around, come back to you
Or should I keep on walking away

It feels so good with you
It feels so right with you
But I will bring you sorrow
If I stay with you

Now if I hurt you, forgive me
Try not to lose faith in me
You know I would never hurt you intentionally
What will I do tomorrow
Without your love I would surely lose my way
And rush headlong into nowhere
On a ghost highway

It feels so good with you
It feels so right with you
But I will bring you sorrow
If I stay with you

I would lay down my life for you

I kept going on, when going on
Made no real sense at all
But it's no good now, it's all clear to me
Now that my back is against the wall
How will you get through tomorrow
It doesn't matter, I know you will
And we'll be together forever
Bound by the way we made each other feel

And I will lay down my life for you
I will lay down my life for you
'Cause it feels so good with you
Yes, it feels so right with you

I will lay down my life for you
