

Carole King, Love For The Last Time

LOVE FOR THE LAST TIME

by Carole King

Seems funny now to think of how I call you up to talk about all the little things that were on my mind
You were a friend, you listened to all I dreamed of I wanted a real love, the good old fashioned kind.

It was you all along
You who kept me strong
I wonder how I could've been so blind
You kissed me like a lover,
loved me like a friend
And I'm in love for the last time.

I got burned, seems like everybody does, by romance Still I yearn and though I didn't know just what it was,
I got a second chance.

Just think of it,
If we had missed the moment, we might have spent the years ahead believing love had passed I found a love to last a lifetime I'm in love for the last time, and time will make it last.

It was you all along,
You who kept me strong
I don't know how I could've been so blind.
You kissed me like a lover,
loved me like a friend
And I'm in love for the last time

It was you all along
you who kept me strong...
