Cartel, I Will Hide Myself Away

Smooth like a rolling crystal ball Heading for a sight line Straight towards a fall No one will get through No one will get through at all

The night sky illuminates it all Like a distant fire fight Always orchestral Time is coming soon Just to pass by you By you

And I will hide myself away
Save all of these people for another day
And I will hide myself away
Just to spite them all for another day

The moon comes down on me again Soon this mumbling train now slowly will begin Giving me this pain This paralyzing pain again

The night sky illuminates it all Like a distant fire fight Always orchestral Time is coming soon Just to pass by you Pass by you

Save all of these people for another day
And I will hide myself away
Just to spite them all for another day

Smooth like a rolling crystal ball Heading for a sight line Straight towards a fall No one will get through No one will get through at all

Save all of these people for another day
And I will hide myself away
Just to spite them all for another day

And I will hide myself away much to the chagrin of everyone this day And I am not much a friend this way No, I'm not fit to wear that hat today

~Interlude~

Take the best the best is all that I can give and find a way so again I fall to me is me is nothing at all but I rise again fear the pain it's pretty but it's oh so vein and it shapes me swear i'll find truth in the best the fall of time even if I die

Tonight I will follow
I made my mind tonight
I will follow
I'll make this bath and last good thing I died and I
I'll be gone.

It's nothing else carry over what you can find a place that I just thought of what you said (?)
it's much too soon for all of them but not for you and it shapes me swear I'll find truth in the best the fall of time even if I die

Tonight I will follow
I made my mind tonight
I will follow
I'll make this bath at last good thing I died
and I
I'll be gone.
