

Cashless, Take Away

Hello folks, hello my friends do you feel ok tonight?
Let's go once more, pack the bags and out of this old doors.
It's time to make history, it's time to write the story on,
or just to sing a few songs, so sing together, sing along.
I don't know where we going, where the way leads us to,
but what ever happens tonight, I know for sure...
No one can ever take away the memories of these times,
they're forever tattooed in my heart.
In all these years you became a brother to me.
I'm glad for every second we spent, you and me.
Sometimes I don't wanna stay, sometimes it feels like home.
With the nice people around me, a good party going on.
So come on get the shit together and get into the bus.
Another town waits for us, and it's along way to go for us.
Always together no one can bring us down.
Let's get it on today another place another town.-Let's go
Together we're standing, we will never fall back down.
We got friends in every city and a place to stay in every town.
You're my family I love to be with you.
Boozing together and sing along with you.
Whoo ooh, whoo ooh
Take away, take away yeah!
