

Cass Elliot, (If You're Gonna) Break Another Heart

If you're gonna break another heart, then break it
Come on and break it
If you're gonna take that kind of chance, then take it
Go on and take it
Anything I say or do will make no difference
In the end you'll go ahead
And do what you really wanna do
If you're gonna break another heart, then break it
If you're gonna take that kind of chance then take it
You are free to take it
But don't come runnin' back to me
If you're gonna make another change, then make it
Go on and make it
If you're gonna do it, do it now, don't leave it
'Cause I can't take it
Everybody knows that you were born a drifter
You were born a drifter, baby
You'll never, never settle down
If you're gonna break another heart, then break it
If you're gonna take that kind of chance, then take it
You are free to take it
But don't come runnin' back to me
If you're gonna play another tune, then play it
If you're gonna say what's on your mind, then say it
Go ahead and say it
But don't come runnin' back to me
