

Cassandra Wilson, Warm Spot

on my way on my way
on my way on my way
on my way back there again
back to the warm spot in the middle of your soul I'll be there I'll be there I'll be there I'll be there if I have my own way oh, I been running sideways skipping 'round the holes I have made my mind up I'm gonna have him anyway that I can and so I'm on my way
on my way on my way
on my way on my way
back there again
back to the warm spot in the middle of your soul coppercolored conjure man wave your magic wand and rescue me I've been searching far and wide for someone to care for me you're my angel in the morning light you're my devil in the dark of night
but you've been out of sight, out of sight
on my way on my way
on my way
(devil in the dark come back)
(devil in the dark come back)
you are the one true... chocolate-colored conjure man
wave your magic wand and rescue me
I want to give you all i can give you leave no trace behind
leave no trace behind
leave no trace behind
leave no trace behind
