

Cassie Steele, Things that god cannot explain

A voice inside me cries but for pleasure or for pain a nightmare in disguise who taunts me with your name I hear thunder coming closer with each beat that my heart makes the temptation to hold her is so strong that I break

[Bridge]

im not helpless but im spinning am i losing me

[Chorus]

what we do when heavens rain things that god cannot explain thunder roars in the skies above and these just things I cant ignore while the clouds bleed 'till I'm stained things that god cannot explain how you bruise me with a kiss while I dangle and I twist I've crossed another line is it wrong to feel this way I've left it all behind me on the boundaries of my faith I was told but I dont know is it natural or a sin as your body comes in closer I hold back then I give in

[Bridge]

[Chorus]

when the rain disappears will it wash away my fears or have you stained me with your kiss just a scarlet on my wrist

[Chorus]
