

Catatonia, New Mercurial Heights

Those two lights are one,
With the brightest ever smile,
No way the way out,
And no resolutions.
One heady daze of fun,
Do you follow a child around?
It was easy,
It all came naturally.

And Oh,
It's no perfect day,
No-one could deny,
He left, stolen away,
I wish you could have seen it.

To where have you been led,
by a beating ache in your head,
If you only came,
the world shines with you.

A frenzied search for profit,
For a future you couldn't have,
You're tried and tired,
Leave and disappear.

And Oh,
It's no perfect day,
No-one could deny,
He left, stolen away,
I wish you could have seen it.

Ah-Ah, Ba-Ba-Ba-Ba-Ba,
Ah-Ah, Ba-Ba-Da-Da-Da.
