

Catch 22, Bad Party (1927)

So I submit youve failed us twice.
Once is for your brothers.
One is for your brothers and the seconds for your sons.

Isolation, mis-education; and for the very clever there is looming liquidation.
You put the light of Socialism high up on a shelf and in effect prevented it from spreading somewhere else.

What have you done? What do you say to those whove died along the way?
Should you tell them that theyve died in vain?

Now is when we should all be moving forward, but instead youre falling back.
Dont stop now when were almost up the mountain, though the view here mighty seem nice.

Expatriate one hundred and then shoot a thousand more.
Expel the opposition to your centrist Thermidor!
The rudeness and disloyalty about which Lenin spoke (says wrote in song) have now become the cords that are wrapped around your throats.
