

Cathy Dennis, Stupid Fool

All good things have come to end
Plans and things you'd once defend
Time has pushed that bridge too far
Tenderness I have no more
Now that I have nothing
I realise that everything ends
Now that I have nothing
I realise what a stupid fool I've been
Seas of tears won't help me now
Bitter lips have done me proud
All my lies have had their day
For my tongue I now must pay
Now that I have nothing
I realise that everything ends
Now that I have nothing
I realise what a stupid fool I've been
Now that I have nothing
I realise that everything ends
Now that I have nothing
I realise what a stupid fool I've been
And now that I have nothing
I realise that everything ends
Now that I have nothing
I realise what a stupid fool I've been
What a stupid fool I've been
