

Catie Curtis, I Still Want To

I've fallen off of bicycles
I've fallen out of trees
I've fallen through the ice
And I have fallen to my knees
But I still want to, I'd still love to
I still need to, just try because I want to
Because I love you, because I'm crazy
Because I am alive again
I got my mother worrying
And my sister too
They'd give me all their blessings
If I would not fall for you
But I still want to, I'd still love to
I still need to, just try because I want to
Because I love you, because I'm crazy
Because I am alive again
You've got eyes that shine on me
And a smile that stops me dead
I'm taking back the cynical
Things that I once said
But I still want to, I'd still love to
I still need to, just try because I want to
Because I love you, because I'm crazy
Because I am alive again
