

Catrien Maxwell, Far From Home

I'm not made for this
And I don't want to be alive tonight
I've wanted to show you
But my words fall apart everytime I try
And if you find me in this place that I've chosen
Just turn around, I don't want to be found
Don't try to save me
It's no use, 'cause I'm frozen
So this is the story that I wrote
But I'm playing the part of someone I don't know
The mirror shows a stranger, and everyday I'm feeling stranger..
I'm so very far from home
So this is the last day that I'll see the sun
I'll leave this place as the forgotten one
Dreamless nights and broken bones
I'm abandoned and so far, so far from home
And everytime I turn around I'm haunted
You tear me down
I'm in pieces and I crumble
In this world I play the clown
It's just not worth it
To fight for something that's broken
So I'm never coming back here again
I can't make sense of it
And everything has been stolen
So this is the story that I wrote
But I'm playing the part of someone I don't know
The mirror shows a stranger, and everyday I'm feeling stranger..
I'm so very far from home
So this is the last day that I'll see the sun
I'll leave this place as the forgotten one
Dreamless nights and broken bones
I'm abandoned and so far, so far from home
I'm gonna burn
This is the road I chose
Oh, I was born
To be alone
