

Catrien Maxwell, Through the Stars

My heart is a deep and dark ocean
And you sit heavy on the bottom
Hidden in the sand
I still feel you, I feel you
I starve for a piece of yesterday
But I know that's just one thing I'll never taste
I still have you, I have you in me

Chorus:

You're flying through the stars
But I need to hold you
You were supposed to wait for me
And I'm feeling so alone
'Cause I just need you
I can't breathe
I walk, but I don't care where I'm going
I walk just to reach the end
So I can see you, I'll see you again

Chorus

Will you come in a dream
And will you whisper that you love me
Will you hold my hand
And will you kiss my head
Will you sing to me

Chorus
