Devil's Diary

Here in hell's hammock just thinking up deviltry planet-wide panic's a hat that's so old i'd rather write about her in my diary could she be mine without selling her soul dirty deeds from a demon seed don't excite me anymore is there one girl
just one girl who says
i'm bigger than jesus now up above her i'm stage diving off the church of the holier than thou and i'm bigger than jesus now he's got his uptight white virginal followers i've got these metal chicks dumber than rocks dated one once but i hated the music and all her ex-boyfriends were there on the bus it's never good to be "understood"; by a girl in acid wash and god only knows what it is that i really want guess i could ask her but he's not the best confidant puts me down in the biblical sense in this basement apartment with hell-to-pay rent
is there one girl
just one girl who says...
