I Need Your Love

Sometimes I remember the day
Sometimes I remember you said
Pleasure's turn to pain
Our love will fade away

Time is blowing and time is growing
Only thing that I know for sure
By being here so long
Is all I want is coming home

You can never say goodbye
To everything you've left behind
Maybe you will understand
That life is just a simple game

I need your love
You're the one I'm living for
I need your love
Can you give me one more chance

Sometime I will promise you
Sometime I will cover you
Cause it hurts to be alone
All I want is coming home

You can never say goodbye
To everything you've left behind
I can try to hold it down
Everytime you cross the line

I need your love
You're the one I'm living for
I need your love
Can you give me one more chance
I need your love
I've been here for too long
I need your love
I want you home
