

Celebration, Evergreen

If I could touch the sky, you'd say
I know it's true just by lovin' you anyways
Millions of stars know the seed of days' true number
Oh, we can start the fire, embrace the thunder
Ooh, have we reached
The path to the heart of the sun?
Ooh, you can never reach too far
No matter what you are
If I could touch the sky, you'd say
I know it's true just by lovin' you anyways
Millions of stars know the seed of days' true number
Oh, we can start the fire, embrace the thunder
Ooh, have we reached
The path to the heart of the sun?
Ooh, you can never reach too far
No matter what you are
[Celebration Lyrics are found on www.songlyrics.com] Evergreen will ever be
So evergreen we shall see
Evergreen scrape the sky
Ooh, evergreen wave goodbye
And there I stood whispering blood and brood
And then we laughed and all our seeds fell out
At the splendor of a frost killing a moss
At the splendor of a frost
At the sundown, at the sundown
At the sundown dance of a forest romance
At the sundown, at the sundown
At the sundown dance
At the sundown, at the sundown
At the sundown dance of a forest romance
At the sundown, at the sundown dance
