

Celestial Season, Above Azure Oceans

away from this planet onwards to a second earth the destination of this flight or is it a bad trip?

hiding in the shadows of life and far away from the light of doom passing into surreality into a paradise never explored before a part you are in the chain, the chain of angels that seek the night, the night sky miles, hours, lives away from here above azure oceans through landscapes of forgotten times in mountains of mist you fly, you fall yeah, my child you'll come back sometime oh my precious, you'll come back to me
