

Celestial Season, Alooka's Boulevard

You take it slow maybe you've got it all under control just wait and see save yourself from the ego in me you blaim me for every damn time that I couldn't be yours you're killing me now I step back, step back from your heartache

I'll dissapear and leave you for love on a higher degree forever free is'nt that just what we wanted from each other

You've got it all so clear this is the last time that I came so near
forever tumbling down, tumbling down and running away run from here into the dawn
